Youth Focus Group

In February 2022 the James and Diana Ramsay Foundation (JDRF) convened a workshop for leaders of our grant recipient organisations working with young people. The purpose of the event was to deepen the understanding we have of the issues that young people are facing, our partners and the work they do, and to facilitate connections between leaders.

While the JDRF provides support, we are very conscious that our partner organisations are the experts in their field, in this case, delivering programs directly to young people in South Australia. To meet with the leaders of these organisations in an informal setting was truly valuable, we gained further knowledge of their goals, programs and challenges. Many of our attendees have now connected further as a result of the workshop.

We need connection opportunities (like today) with other youth agencies to spark collaboration opportunities – Participant

We would encourage other grant-making organisations to connect if you would like further confidential information on the workshop outcomes or facilitation.
